Le Hougue Bie Adventure

Circular Walk

Le Hougue Bie is pretty special. It is now labelled as the tenth oldest building in the world and was constructed in 3500 BC, later excavated in 1925. Begin at the museum and stroll to sea level via Queen’s Valley Reservoir, through to La Rocque Harbour. This harbour, complete with sandy beach, fishing boats and a pier is beautiful viewing and includes one of Jersey’s iconic landmarks, Seymour Tower. You can take the additional 2km walk to the tower at low tide or dip in the revitalising water at high tide before winding your way back through tree lined lanes to where you began. Caution. Extreme tidal flows. Guided walks to Seymour Tower are advised.
